I am a hard working person with high aim. I have polite behavior and attitude I could be fit in any field of work. I can learn fast and I can do any task if I got a chance to do it. There are no limits of achievements until you stop struggling. That's what I think that's why I do everything which confront me and I do my best in any task. I had worked in as daily wages in all fields of construction. Learning is my passion so I try to learn everything.
